BUREAU VERITAS IS CERTIFIED AS A TOP EMPLOYER

---

Bureau Veritas South Africa Group has recently been certified as a Top Employer in South Africa for 2022 by the globally-acclaimed and authoritative Top Employers Institute.

Commenting on the company's achievement, Ms Beatrice Scharneck, District Human Resources Manager for Bureau Veritas Southern Africa, said: "We are immensely proud to have received such certification, which enables the showcasing of our organisation's dedication to a better world of work during the year ahead."

Certification approval followed a rigorous and independent analysis of the company's human resources environment by representatives of the Top Employers Institute.

The analysis took into account six human resources domains, comprising some 20 topics, inclusive of people strategy, the work environment, talent acquisition, learning and well-being, as well as diversity and inclusion, amongst a number of other components.

Ms Scharneck added: "Our company successfully completed a number of critical steps which made up a comprehensive analysis programme, including a human resources best practice survey, a validation process and an audit. Pleasingly, the ultimate outcome was that Bureau Veritas was found to have in place and to actively display excellent human resources policies and people practices, thus qualifying for Top Employer certification."

The organisation's performance score was rated against an international standard.

The Top Employers Institute is a global authority charged with recognising excellence in people practices, striving to accelerate these practices, so as to better enrich the world of work.

Crucially, organisations participating in the Top Employers Institute Certification Programme are validated, certified and recognised as employers of choice.

"We take our brand reputation very seriously and having achieved independent and official validation that Bureau Veritas is regarded as a top employer will greatly assist in giving effect to the retention of our existing professional talent and the attraction of seriously high-calibre staff into the future."

"This status will, in turn, ensure further improved levels of productivity and positions us to take Bureau Veritas to an altogether new business level going forward," said Ms Scharneck .

To date, the Top Employers Institute has certified some 1 600 organisations in 120 countries and regions, positively impacting the lives of more than seven million employees globally.

"Now Bureau Veritas has joined this select group, and is globally acknowledged as an organisation which puts its members of staff first in the workplace," Ms Scharneck said.
